- Q.4. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: 6

English is very important these days. The myth that English is a foreign language and should therefore be neglected is a wrong ideas. The beauty of our regional literature has been tasted by the people all over India only through the medium of English language. Tagore's Gitanjali won him the first Noble prize for literature among the Asian Countries. Dr S. Radhakrishnan advocated Indian thoughts to the world in lucid and simplified English. The Indian culture and religion has been exposed to the western world by Swami Vivekanand through his matchless skills of English speeches the Indian constitution itself is written in English. Now is it right for the younger generation to think English is a foreign language. In a country like India where jobs are few and candidates are in alarming numbers, only the use of English would solve the problem of unemployment. The foreign companies will hire English speaking candidates. The problem of unemployment can thus be solved to a certain extent. Considering all these aspects, i am, strongly, of the opinion that we should encourage the learning and teaching of English language.
