

Legal Language/General English/Legal Writing : 2006*Note: Attempt all questions.Unit-I

1. Attempt any ten of the following:

(a) Fill up the blanks with the suitable words given in bracket:

(i) He lives ..... America.

(at, in, within)

(ii) I have taken nothing ..... yesterday.

(since, for, from)

(iii) He is ..... the top of the class.

(in, at, upon)

(iv) Nobody should be deprived ..... fundamental justice.

(from, out, of)

(b) Expand the following abbreviations:

(v) F.I.R., (vi) I.D. Act, (vii) Cr.P.C.

(c) Correct the following:

(viii) Will you have a tea?

(ix) Goodnight, glad to see you.

(x) He sat under the shade of the mango tree.

(d) Do as directed:

(xi) He was so tired that he could not move further.

(Use 'too' to convert into simple sentence)

(xii) Ram passed the examination. His brother failed.

(Combine the sentences)

(xiii) It is cloudy; it ..... rain.

(use a modal)

(xiv) "Alas! we miss Gandhi today," they said.

(Change into indirect narration)

Unit-II

2. Relate the history of the legal language showing how it came into vogue in India?

Or How far do you justify the reasons that English should be the medium of communication in higher judiciary?

Unit-III

3. What do you understand by passive and active listening? Explain giving examples.

Or What is the significance of stress and intonation in spoken form of English?

Unit-IV

4. (a) Show your acquaintance with the following words

(any five):

(i) Solvency, (ii) Sole deed, (iii) Legacy, (iv) Hostile witness, (v) Sustainable, (vi) Injunction, (vii) Pendency

(b) Translate the following Hindi words into English (any five):

(i) मयकूरी, (ii) तलवाना, (iii) मुद्दई, (iv) साक्षी, (v) हाजिर, (vi) एकपक्षीय, (vii) बहुविवाह

Unit-V

5. What are the merits of attractive pleading in judiciary?

Or How will you react if in the mid-process of the case you come to know that your client is a liar?

Unit-VI

6. Prepare a draft of 'demand of justice' for your client for getting his due promotion in the service.

Or Write a judicial enquiry report on a bus accident case.

Unit-VII

7. In what way the proficiency in the regional language is an essential quality of a good pleader?